

THE FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Publisher.

A WEEKLY PAPER—DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND SOCIETY NEWS.

TERMS: $1.00 In Advance

VOL. XXVIII.

FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY, SATURDAY, JAN. 28, 1905.

NO. 21

CAUGHT IN ICE.

The good steamer, Falls City, came down the river on Wednesday afternoon and went as far as lock No. 4, when she found the ice too heavy and was forced to lay up in the sluice way just below the lower gate of the lock to await the melting of the ice.

BUYS SOUTH SIDE PROPERTY.

Mr. Henry Burckhardt, Sr., has purchased the two-story brick storehouse of Mr. N. F. Richardson, on Bridge street (now occupied by Mr. Nevill Collins as a meat store), for $2,500 cash. This is a fine stand for the business for which it is used. It is supposed that Mr. Burckhardt will open a meat store at that place.

SELLS HIS FINE FARM.

Mr. J. P. Hostetter has sold his fine farm, known as the Tom Farmer place, just opposite the Stewart Home, six miles from this city, on the Lawrenceburg pike, containing about 400 acres, to Mr. Wallace Estill, of Fayette county. This is one of the best farms in that section of the country. Mr. Hostetter will come to this city to reside for a time at least.

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY.

Capt. W. M. Lyons, Custodian of Public Buildings, was stricken with apoplexy at the residence of Dr. U. V. Williams, on Steele street (where he boards), at 2 o'clock, on Sunday morning. He is in a very critical condition, with small prospect of recovery.

INDICTED.

In the Fayette Circuit Court, on Wednesday, following up the revelations made in the trial of Bill Britton for the murder of James Cockrill, indictments were found against James Hargis, Alex. Hargis, Elbert Hargis, Ed. Callahan and James Spicer, charging them with conspiring with Britton and Curtis Jett to murder James Cockrill, marshal of the town of Jackson.

Other indictments will probably be found against some of these parties in Bretnitt county, based upon the evidence in the case of Mrs. Marcum against Hargis, French and others.

Altogether it is a "sweet kettle of fish."

Dr. Weaver's Treatment.
Syrup purifies the blood, cures skin eruptions.

BUYS HOME FOR DAUGHTER.

Gov. W. O. Bradley has purchased the handsome residence property of Dr. S. B. Holmes, on Wapping street, and has presented it to his daughter, Mrs. John G. South. The price paid was a good one, but is private.

It's the little colds that grow into big colds; the big colds that end in consumption and death. Watch the little colds. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

VERDICT FOR $2,000.

The jury in the case of Barbour v. C. & O. Railway Co. returned a verdict of $2,000 damages for the killing of Miss Barbour at the Gainer bridge, on the L. & N. R. Miss Barbour attempted to cross the bridge to rescue her brother, but was caught and killed.

TONIC TO THE SYSTEM.

For liver troubles and constipation there is nothing better than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little Pills. They do not weaken the stomach. Their action upon the system is mild, pleasant and harmless. Bob Moore, of LaFayette, Ind., says, "No use talking, DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work. All other pills I have used gripe and make me sick in the stomach and never cured me. DeWitt's Little Early Risers proved to be the long sought relief. They are simply perfect." Persons traveling find Little Early Risers the most reliable remedy to carry with them. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

NEW PROPRIETOR.

Mrs. Frank H. Duvall has come to this city to reside, and has rented the old Weitzel House, on Lewis street, lately occupied by Mrs. John Hayden, and has opened a first-class boarding house. Those desiring good rooms, good food, and homelike entertainment should see Mrs. Duvall. She knows how to keep a good house.

COUNTRY HOME BURNED.

The residence of Mrs. Reuben Brown, some six miles from this city, on the Louisville pike, and occupied by her and the family of her son, Mr. John M. Brown, was totally destroyed by fire, about 4:30 o'clock, on Friday afternoon.

The loss was total and amounted to some $4,000 or $5,000. But little furniture was saved.

We understand that there was insurance to the amount of $3,000.

CITY ASSESSOR ELECTED AND POLICE APPOINTED.

The City Council, at its session on Monday night, elected Mr. S. Thos. Pence City Assessor in place of Mr. Frank Rogers.

The Council, at the same time, confirmed the following nominations of Policemen, as made by Mayor Darnell:

Y. D. Mangan, Chief; James Brown, H. Davis Harrod, Nevill White, Z. T. Thomason, Jas. Lillis, Ernest Collins, Austin Robinson and Richard Johnson.

The police force is the same as last year, except that Mr. Richard Johnson is appointed to serve on the West Side.

SELLS HOME.

Mr. Ed. J. Roberts has sold his pretty cottage home, on Campbell street, between Logan and Murray streets, to Mr. Frank Rossen. Mr. Roberts had the property in fine condition. The price is private.

A lazy liver makes a lazy man. Burdock Blood Bitters is the natural, never failing remedy for a lazy liver.

OLD-FASHIONED CONCERT.

On Tuesday, February 7, the ladies of the Episcopal Church will give an "old-fashioned concert" at the Opera House, in this city, that promises to eclipse all previous efforts made by these ladies in the way of entertainments given in behalf of the church. There are too many good features to specialize any one, but you are assured of an evening's entertainment that will carry you back to the days of "Auld Lang Syne," and give the younger generation a chance to see how our grandmothers looked on "dress parade." Besides this, you will hear the old songs by fresh, new voices, for the best talent in the city will participate.

WANTED—MEN AND WOMEN

In this country and adjoining territories, to represent and advertise an old established house of solid financial standing. Salary to men $21 weekly, to women $12 to $18 weekly with expenses advanced each Monday by check direct from headquarters. Horse and buggy furnished when necessary position permanent. Address, Blew Bros. & Co., Dept. 4, Monon Bldg., Chicago, Ill. 18-2H.

Terrible plagues, those itching, pestering diseases of the skin. Put an end to misery. Doan's Ointment cures. At any drug store.

A NEW YEAR'S GIFT TO CAPT. DAVID A. MURPHY.

Captain David A. Murphy, Superintendent of Construction of the United States Public Buildings, now on duty in this city is the honored recipient of a priceless New Year's gift—a plaster bust of himself, size 18x24 inches, in gilt frame under glass.

The plaster plaque is a work of high art, and strikingly lifelike in expression.

The Captain's soldier face and shoulders are "not idealized," but presented with all their "rugged features."

The bust and frame is the gift and handiwork of his friend, Mr. Joseph Wilberding, the Italian sculptor and artist, whose studio is at Norwood, O.

It is a gift of affection, and would honor the Governor of Kentucky or any College President.

The sculptor, we understand, has been at work on it at odd times for six months.—Maysville Ledger.

(For the Roundabout.) A PROLOGUE.

"A person must go abroad to find out what is going on at home."

Sitting by the hotel heater, one man, evidently a lawyer, asked his companion if he knew about the new law firm just started? After a little conversation about the matter, a stranger sitting next them said: "Gentlemen, please excuse me, but I heard you mention lawyers, and I am in a little trouble and need a lawyer. So would be glad if you would direct me to one."

After receiving the information and thanking them, in answer to a question, he handed them a document, with eight signatures attached, and said "I bought five-thousand acres of land in Eastern Kentucky some time ago. It belonged to four different parties. Two of them signed and their wives also, but the other two signed not only their own names, but their wives names too."

"Since then the two women have died, so now I can't get their signatures nor dispose of the property for want of them."

"That reminds me of a mixed up affair down in Franklin county, reverse of your case, however, said the other, 'because the woman signed the man did not.'"

"Down there a man died intestate, leaving five hundred acres of land, and several heirs, two infants. When his land was sold at commissioner's sale the buyer found that the decedent had an unsigned deed, except that the wife of the previous owner had signed it, so the buyer, at great expense, had to send to another State to get the deed signed."

"But would that kind of a manufactured deed hold good," said the stranger, "Yes, I think it would," said the lawyer, "until some one went up against it or the two infants became of age and asked for their share of their father's estate. Besides no violation of our law took place, for, as matter who signed it, the injury was done in another State."

"Anything is likely to happen in Franklin," said the other, "for, when I was in Frankfort years ago, the law required a man to pay his tax and register sixty days before election. A young man who had complied with the law, a week after registering, died, but he came down from the cemetery and voted at the election."

"They have a strange way of doing things there," said his friend. "It's usual for a man to make a will first, then die, but a man, I have forgotten his name, but it was somewhere out Hardinsville way, died first and made his will afterwards."

WE ARE ALL FAMILIAR

With the deep, hoarse bark, grimly called "a graveyard cough," it is the cry of the tortured lungs for mercy. Give them mercy in the form of Allen's Lung Balsam, a remedy for pulmonary trouble, so highly esteemed that it is recommended even in the earlier stages of consumption. In the later stages mortal skill is unavailing. No body can afford to neglect a cold.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

MARRIED.

KIRBY-ROBERTS—At the Catholic Rectory, on Wednesday, Mr. Taylor N. Kirby and Mrs. Lizzie Downey Roberts were married by Rev. Father Thos. S. Major.

Mr. Kirby is the present efficient jailer of his county. His bride is the widow of Mr. Henry M. Roberts, Private Secretary to Gov. Bradley, and is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Downey, this county.

MITCHELL-THOMASON—In Knoxville, Tenn., on Tuesday, Mr. B. F. Mitchell and Miss Ophelia Thomason were married.

Mr. Mitchell is a prominent young business man of Knoxville. His bride is the handsome daughter of Officer Z. T. Thomason, of this city. She was visiting her relative, Mr. Brack Stone, in Greenville, when she met and was won by her husband.

THE LEGISLATURE.

So far as the settlement of the site for the new Capitol building is concerned the Legislature is practically just where it started nearly three weeks ago.

The House, on Wednesday, by a vote of 49 to 28, decided in favor of the Hunt site.

On Thursday the Senate, by a vote of 18 to 15, decided in favor of the grounds now occupied by the Institute for Feeble-minded Children.

So there you are. In so far as accomplishing anything looking towards the settlement of this vexed question the session has been an expensive failure.

It looks like the two bodies were playing at cross-purposes.

We regret very much to see that politics (or rather the play for position in the dominant party) is cutting a large swarth in the matter.

Frankfort sincerely desires to see this matter settled, and that at once, and will be satisfied with whatever is done—so it is done quickly.

BUYS NEW HOME.

Mr. E. P. Denton, of the Benson Valley, has purchased the home of his mother, at Bagdad, and will remove to that place to reside in the near future. His new home cost him $8,500.

FINE MEETING.

The meeting being conducted at the Versailles Baptist Church has gone on its way, notwithstanding the inclement weather, very successfully. There have been some sixteen to twenty additions to the membership of the Church.

Rev. M. B. Adams, of this city, has been preaching twice a day for three weeks, and the people of Versailles and the newspapers speak in the highest terms of his sermons.

Mr. Adams is expected home to-day, and will fill his appointments at his own church to-morrow.

REFUSE TO COME TO LEXINGTON.

Bench warrants having issued from the Fayette Circuit Court for the Breathitt county conspirators to murder James Cockrill, the officer appointed to make the arrests was met with a refusal of the parties to come to Lexington, having had themselves arrested and admitted to bail before one of their benchmen, a magistrate of Breathitt county.

We did not know, before, that men charged with murder, could so easily slip through the meshes of the law.

We will now see whether Breathitt county is superior in authority to the State of Kentucky.

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

We are authorized to announce Mr. KENNER TAYLOR as a candidate for Mayor of the city of Frankfort, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election November, 1905. 20-te.

THE DIAMOND CURE.

The latest news from Paris, is that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee, of Vanleer, Tenn. "I had a cough, for fourteen years. Nothing helped me, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief, and effected a permanent cure." Unequaled quick cure, for Throat and Lung Troubles. At all drug stores; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

.. DEATHS ..

HERNDON—At the residence of her brother, Judge W. C. Herndon, on Tuesday night, Miss Hallie Herndon, of heart failure superinduced by pneumonia.

Miss Herndon was the daughter of the late Mr. W. T. Herndon, a prominent citizen and business man of this city before the civil war.

She was a handsome, cultivated and refined Christian lady. She had traveled extensively and was unusually well informed. While she regarded this city as her home, she spent considerable time with her sister, Mrs. John Morgan, in Lexington.

She was a devoted member of the First Presbyterian Church of this city.

She leaves two sisters (Mrs. John Morgan, of Lexington, and Mrs. Lewis Castleman, of Missouri), one brother (Judge W. C. Herndon, of this city), and one adopted sister (Mrs. J. F. Lewis, of Buffalo, N. Y.), to mourn her death. Besides these she was widely connected and tenderly loved by many relatives and friends.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. J. McC. Blayney, from the residence of her brother, Judge W. C. Herndon, on Conway street, on Thursday morning, at 11 o'clock.

TO OUR PATRONS.

We will, in a few days, send out bills to our patrons for their subscriptions to the Roundabout. The amounts due from each individual subscriber are small, but, in the aggregate they amount to a very considerable sum, and will help very materially to make the "wheels go round."

We trust the response will be prompt and assuring, for which we shall be duly grateful. If.

THAT DIRT NUISANCE.

We have been requested to call the attention of the Board of Education and the city authorities to the condition of the new granite sidewalk leading from the corner of Bridge street to Taylor Ave. The dirt taken from the extension of the street car line is still piled up there so that it is almost impossible to pass that way, and when the weather is soft the mud, slush and water are something awful, through which the teachers and scholars of the city school are compelled to wade, to say nothing of the citizens living on those streets.

It is about time this nuisance was abated.

DOINGS IN CIRCUIT COURT.

The jury in the case of Macklin v. L. & N. and F. & C. Ry. Co., rendered a verdict, on Saturday, awarding $700 against the L. & N. and $500 against the F. & C. Ry.

Ed. Diamond, colored, was given three years in the Pen for housebreaking.

THE above picture of the man and fish is the trademark of Scott's Emulsion, and is the synonym for strength and purity. It is sold in almost all the civilized countries of the globe.

If the cod fish became extinct it would be a world-wide calamity, because the oil that comes from its liver surpasses all other fats in nourishing and life-giving properties. Thirty years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion found a way of preparing cod liver oil so that everyone can take it and get the full value of the oil without the objectionable taste. Scott's Emulsion is the best thing in the world for weak, backward children, thin, delicate people, and all conditions of wasting and lost strength.

Worry

Almost Unnerved Me
—Heart Pains.

Short of Breath,
Faint and Languid.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

"It has been five years since I was cured of heart trouble by your Heart Cure and Nervine, and I am just as sound as a dollar in that organ today. For several years I had been suffering with my heart. Breathing had become short and difficult at times, short, sharp pains about the heart, sometimes accompanied with fluttering, would make me feel faint and languid. The least excitement or mental worry would almost unnerve me. I felt that the trouble was growing worse all the time, and after trying many remedies prescribed by physicians without obtaining relief, I was induced to give your remedies a trial. I was relieved the second day, and after taking three or four bottles all symptoms were removed and have never showed signs of returning."—REV. GEO. W. KILACOFF, Chinoctega, Va.

There are many symptoms of heart disease, which so closely resemble those of more common nervous disorders as to frequently mislead the attending physician. Often in cases of heart trouble the stomach, kidneys, liver or lungs become affected. Again the symptoms may be those of weakened nerves, as tired feeling, sleeplessness, timidity, the patient is easily excitable and apt to worry without cause. If you have the least suspicion that your heart is weak study your symptoms and begin the use of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, the great heart and blood tonic, without a day's delay.

Druggists sell and guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles' Remedies. Send for free booklet on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

SPLENDID ADDRESS.

Rev. John R. Sampey, D. D., of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, at Louisville, delivered an address to the Baptist Young People's Union, and the Barracka Class, of the First Baptist Church, on Sunday night last, to an audience that completely filled the big audience room.

His theme was the love of Jonathan and David.

It was a masterly and, at the same time, a tender and loving appeal to the young people especially, but included all, to rise to that higher and grander affection one toward another that is so forcefully displayed in the character of these heroes of the olden times, and which led them to an unselfish preference of the one over the other.

In language simple, and yet in pure and classic English, he held before his audience that still higher love that surrendered the glories of heaven to become the Saviour of the lost.

Dr. Sampey is a great favorite with Frankfort people and he strengthened his hold upon their affections by the address of Sunday night.

THE BLIZZARD.

On Tuesday morning, the day opened mild and gloomy, but about 9 o'clock it commenced to snow and there was a steady fall for about five hours. Then it cleared away for about two hours and the snow began to melt. The wind rose and it turned suddenly cold and the mercury continued to fall until at 12 o'clock that night, it reached zero and remained at that figure several hours. Later going to three below zero.

The blizzard had been predicted by the weather bureau and came in great shape.

SPEEDY RELIEF.

A salve that heals without a scar is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. No remedy effects such speedy relief. It draws out inflammation, soothes, cools and heals all cuts, burns and bruises. A sure cure for Piles and skin diseases. DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of counterfeits, they are dangerous. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

TRIBUTE TO GOOD MAN.

The large audience which attended the funeral of Mr. Samuel C. Bull, Sr., at the First Presbyterian Church, on Sunday morning, was a fitting tribute to the character and life of the good man gone to his reward. His life was an open book, and he lived the religion he professed, without cant and ostentation.

KENTUCKY'S CONVENTION OF YOUNG MEN.

We have before us a copy of the announcement of the Twenty-Seventh Annual State Convention of the Kentucky Young Men's Christian Associations, to be held in the city of Owensboro, February 10-19, 1905. These conventions are always looked forward to with great interest, and attract wide recognition throughout the State because of their large representations of men from all parts of the State and the strong program presented. Among the speakers for this convention are: President F. W. Hunt, D. D., Danville; Frank H. Bart, Chicago; S. D. Gordon, Cleveland; C. C. Michener, Dr. Geo. J. Fisher, A. G. Knebel, Geo. B. Hodges, Tom Keenan, New York City; B. W. Peck, State Secretary, Minnesota; President J. C. Acheson, Danville, and other representative men of the State. The music will be in charge of E. W. Peck, of Minnesota, and he will have the assistance of the Henderson Male Chorus and the Boys' Orchestra of the Louisville Association.

There are to be several new and important features of the convention this year which will add largely to its efficiency: First, three Normal Bible Classes, taught by three expert instructors, each class to meet three times during the convention; second, a State Gymnasium and Athletic Contest, participated in by the delegates; third, the Association exhibit will be given a place of prominence and will be very helpful to every student of the Association movement; fourth, a Women's Committee Conference will be held in connection with the convention and attended by delegates from the several Women's Committees throughout the State. The educational, social, physical and religious departments of the Association work will be discussed under the leadership of men who are among the Association's best experts in the country. There will be special conferences—city, railroad, student, county—at which some of the problems in these departments will be thoroughly discussed.

Large delegations from the seventy-nine Associations of the State are expected this year at Owensboro. In addition to these, men members of evangelical churches in communities where there are no Associations, and who are interested in Christian work for young men, are invited to attend and participate in the convention as corresponding members. A limited delegation of not over five from such a community will be entertained by the citizens of Owensboro, providing application for credential, giving name and address of pastor or clerk of church, is sent to the State Secretary by February 10th.

The railroads of the State have given a rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip. For all delegates passing through Louisville en route to the convention, the "Henderson Route" (L. H. & St. L. R. R.) will run a Convention Special on Thursday, February 16, leaving the Seventh St. Depot at 1 p. m., arriving at Owensboro at 5 p. m.

For program of the Convention, information about credentials, etc., inquire at the local Association, or address Henry E. Rosevear, State Secretary, Third and Broadway, Louisville.

PEA RIDGE.

Several of our people attended the funeral of Mr. Bull, at Frankfort, last Sunday. Mr. Bull was a good man. He would go miles to start a Sunday-school or assist one. He was a great favorite with our people, and we are very sorry to lose him.

"We are not a blood-thirsty people, but we are unfortunately surrounded by certain people that nothing else will do for them but killing."

This applies to the artist of the Louisville Herald. That picture of the legal celebrities of Frankfort at the reception to Judge Carroll, at the residence of Col. J. A. Scott, is simply atrocious. Our venerable Sage knows Judge Burman and says the picture is not a bit like the judge. He was speaking to him in Richmond, in 1874, and knows him well.

But come to our own county, if Judge Polsgrove looks like that picture, the County Committee ought to cancel his nomination at once. Our patriot would have gone to see the artist, but, thinking that if their skill and learning equalled their pictures there was not enough legal ability in the crowd to clear him in case of trouble.

If the State House Commission will go outside the city for a site, they can not do better than take "Montrose" or "Highland Home," or both. They can be got for very reasonable figures now. Not a dollar need be spent for landscape gardening, etc., for the river, hill, forest and lake are already there. If these places will not do, we are authorized to offer ten acres of land here and enough rock to build the foundation. Contract will be signed the minute the Commission accept, and fifty men set to work getting out rock the same day.

Reports that the Stoops farm has been sold, and as often contradicted, have been made here.

It seems that about thirty-five years ago a number of colored people bought small tracts of the Russell farm, and when a report of land in Kansas at $1.25 per acre came here, numbers of them left for Kansas without being able to sell their land, so it fell into abeyance and was used with the big farm, when it was rented for a number of years.

By a strange coincidence, a citizen of Kansas bought the Russell farm, and, still stranger, when the Russell, or later Stoops farm, was sold, the greater part of the Stoop family moved to Kansas, not far from where these colored people had located.

So certain inquiries were made. Among the purchasers were McDowell, Tyler, Russell and Anthony. Anthony's place was located on the place now occupied by Mr. W. Stoops. Tyler bought twelve acres on another part of same tract besides others.

Rev. Mr. Florence, of Lexington, has been called for this year to the Choateville Church, with this difference that hereafter he will preach twice a month. We are glad to see the church prospering.

TARKINGTON TELLS OF A WOMAN LOBBYIST.

Booth Tarkington certainly kept his eyes open when he was in the Indiana legislature. In the February McClure's he publishes a story that he calls "Mrs. Protheroe." Talk about a glimpse behind the scenes!

With his delicate irony and neat characterization, "The Gentleman from Indiana" shows us Alonzo, a rural Senator in his first term, whose "intense self-respect" blinds him to most of what is happening round about. He attacks with virtuous indignation a Sunday Baseball Bill (his maiden speech, on this subject, ought to be a classic).

Suddenly a beautiful lady with gray furs and an automobile takes a violent interest in Alonzo. It is insinuated to him that she is a "lobbyist," but he repels the idea with scorn.

And we can all guess what happened to the Sunday Baseball Bill.

STAMPING GROUND.

Quite a number of persons filled their ice houses, last week, with clear, pure ice, four to five inches thick.

Mr. Frank Tomlinson, who has been living in Illinois for several years, has returned and will make Kentucky his home again.

We regret to learn that little Miss Cornelia Thomason, daughter of Mr. R. L. Thomason, is dangerously ill from the effects of scarlet fever.

Mr. J. M. Whitton and niece, Miss Ruby, of Greenwood, Ind., were guests of his brother, Mr. J. S. Whitton, last week.

Mr. Rucker, who has the contract for drilling the public well, has met with hard luck. His drill stuck in the well, when down some forty feet, and resists all efforts to dislodge it.

Our old people are standing the rigors of winter remarkably well. "Squire Lindsay, 85, and his wife, 80, are enjoying reasonably good health. Uncle Jesse Hambrick, who has not walked a step for several years, is as lively as a cricket. J. B. Kelly, 76, and sister, Mrs. Wilson, are "housed in," but getting through the winter fairly. Uncle Billy Abbott, past 90, gets around like a boy. Mrs. Sallis A. Glass, nearly 91, is serene and happy in her second girlhood. Uncle Ben Miller, perhaps 88, seldom gets out, but is doing well, his age considered.

The new People's Bank is ready for business.

Rumor has it that Miss Mae Stone, formerly of this community, but now of Greenville, Tenn., has met her fate and been married. We hope she has done well.

REACHING THE SPOT.

It Can Be Done, so Scores of Frankfort Citizens Say.

To cure an aching back. The pains of rheumatism. The tired-out feelings. You must reach the spot—get at the cause.

In most cases 'tis the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, wife of W. M. Johnson, market man, residing at 340 Blanton street, says:

"My son, Lorenzo, was greatly benefited by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago, he had an attack of rheumatism, the attack being so severe that he was hardly able to move about. From that time on his kidneys seemed to be badly affected for he complained a great deal of a steady, dull, aching pain across his back and sharp pains in his kidneys especially if he stooped or lifted anything. A weakness of the kidney secretions was very annoying at night as it disturbed his rest. One evening I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in our paper, and a box was procured at J. W. Gayle's drug store. He began taking them at request, and to my glad surprise, as well as his own, he noticed almost immediate relief. In a short time the backache had entirely left him, the difficulty with the kidney secretions had been corrected and he felt as well as he ever did."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agent for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

LA FARGE ON "ALLEGORIES."

John La Farge apologizes, in the February McClure's, for "reading meanings" into one of the great "Allegories" of painting he describes. We only wish he would "read" more at length his sympathetic interpretation of all the "One Hundred Masterpieces" which he is considering in this series.

The pretty frolic of Titian's laughing babies; Poussin's faithful record of "Echo and Narcissus;" Murillo's touching "St. Anthony" are here revealed in their inner sense to all art lovers, however technically untrained.

What a privilege it is to receive this distinguished critic's successful translation of the art of the brush into that of the pen!

SALE OF STOCK, &c.

By reference to the advertisement of Mr. John P. Hostetter, in another column, it will be seen that he will sell a large lot of stock, personal property, etc., at his farm, known as the Tom Farmer place, on the Lawrenceburg pike. The sale will take place Thursday, February 16.

This will be a good opportunity to get good bargains.

There will be a big burgoon served, made by that prince of burgoon makers, Gus Jaubert.

There will, no doubt, be a big crowd present.

UNDER SOUTHERN SKIES.

This Fine Attraction Coming to the Capital Theatre in the Near Future.

It is an old saying that "there is nothing new under the sun," and this, in a way, applies to plays and dramas, as well as to other things. Dramatists do not expect to find a plot or motive for a play that has never before been used in some form. It has been asserted that there are but nine combinations possible from which plays may be constructed. With these limitations the dramatist can only present the old material in new combinations and so give it fresh interest and apparent originality. In one of the recent great successes among plays, "Under Southern Skies," the author, Lottie Blair Parker, has shown much ingenuity in handling the material in the play so that it is given a freshness and charm that are delightfully attractive. The story of a young girl with rival lovers has been used in many plays and with varying combinations. So too, has the story of the erring wife, returning repentant, been treated often before in drama. But it was Mrs. Parker's happy thought to weave these two stories together, in just such a way and with just such surroundings and accessories as had never been used before. This can certainly be called "originality," and in other ways the play differs from anything yet seen upon the stage. Notably in reproducing a Hallowe'en party in which the young people play some of the tricks of that time-honored institution. These tricks and the Jack-o-lantern dance, are novelities which audiences hail with delight and they have proved a strong feature in the success of the play. The story of "Under Southern Skies" is distinctively Southern. In its main incidents, it could happen in no other part of Christendom. This is also somewhat unusual in plays and "Under Southern Skies" is also somewhat unique among southern plays from the fact that there is not a "Northerner" in the play. All the characters are of Southern birth and are imbued with traits of character inbred in the people of that section of our country. Every one of the twenty-seven characters in the play is a well-drawn portrait, as true a picture of Southern speech and manner as the same author has drawn of New England country people in "Way Down East." The two "Colonels," one full of bluster and flowery oratory, the other cool, deliberate and unmoved, are finely contrasted, and their long standing "feud" furnishes much amusement for the audience. Major Crofton, whose life holds a hidden sorrow is an impressive and interesting figure, and the two lovers of the heroine, are carefully drawn portraits of different natures, although both are examples of the hot-blooded young southerner. The smaller parts are equally well presented and the old darkey, "Uncle Joshaway," is a life-like and amusing character. The young heroine, Lelia Crofton, is the center of interest among her young girl friends. The part is a difficult one to portray for she passes through all the stages of joy and grief, that are woven about her throughout the plot of the play. The faithful old "Aunties" and the mischievous child, "Anner Lizer," are laughable creations true to the darkey of the South. "Under Southern Skies" should be received here by the usual large audience which greets it everywhere. No more enjoyable play than this is now on the road, and the date of its appearance at the Capital Theatre should not be forgotten by those who enjoy an interesting and entertaining play, presented in a first class manner.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that backing cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boesche's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 50c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

(For the Roundabout.) IN MEMORY OF LITTLE FRANK HUNTER.

The Grave of Our Little Boy.

Come closer to this little mound, Willie, dear.
Speak soft and low for the angels hover near.
Buried in his snowy casket, is our sweetest joy
We love this sacred spot, the grave of our little boy.

Oh, love, why hast death come into our happy home
Plucked from our hearts the fairest flower that bloomed.
Left in our soul this bitter sting time can ne'er destroy.
Took our sunbeam, left only the grave of our little boy.

Closed forever on earth the bright eyes that were so dear,
Silenced forever the sweet voice we loved so well to hear.
Yet, 'tis sweet to know he is there, where all is love and joy.
Still our bitter tears, water the grave of our little boy.

Yet, we should not let our tea-stain the green sod.
For dear—such as our little Frank—is the Kingdom of God.
There he is sheltered from all clouds, so there should he joy
In our hearts, when we look on the grave of our little boy.

But, dear, we will miss the kiss of those lips so sweet,
Oft we will listen for the clatter of those dear little feet.
Still we love this tomb that holds our pride and joy,
And oft we will come to the grave of our little boy.

For, dear, we loved this precious little jewel to us given.
I fancy I can hear the music of his little soul in heaven.
Singing among the angels, where there is eternal joy
Waiting for us, beyond the grave of our little boy.

CLERK-CARRIER EXAMINATION.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1, 1905.
The United States Civil Service Commission announce that on the date and at the place named above an examination will be held for the positions of clerk and carrier in the Postoffice Service.

This examination offers an opportunity to bright, energetic young persons to enter an interesting field of Government employment where the salaries compare most favorably with those paid in private employment.

The salary of letter carriers in all cities which contain a population of 75,000 or more is arranged in three classes: First class, $1,000 per annum; second class, $800 per annum; and third class, $600 per annum. In cities containing less than 75,000 population there are two classes: Second class, $850 per annum, and third class, $600 per annum. Appointments of letter carriers are made to the class having the minimum rate of pay and promotions from the lower grade are made to the next higher grade at the expiration of one year's service, on certificate of the postmaster to the efficiency and carefulness of the employee during the preceding year. A substitute letter carrier receives a compensation of $1 per annum and the pro rata compensation of the carrier whose route he may be required to serve. A vacancy in the regular force of carriers must be filled by the promotion of the senior substitute. A substitute clerk is paid a rate of compensation not exceeding the compensation of the absent clerk or employee whose place he takes. The salaries of clerks at the post-offices vary according to the class of work to be performed and the size of the office, but range from $400 to $1,000 in the smaller offices to as high as $1,750 per annum in the larger offices. All original appointments of clerks are made at the minimum salaries.

The examination will consist of the subjects mentioned below, weighted as indicated:

- Subjects. Weights.
- Spelling (twenty words) 20
 - Average difficulty in common use. 20
 - Arithmetic (simple tests in addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division of whole numbers, and in common and decimal fractions, and United States money). 20
 - Letter-writing (a letter of not less than 125 words on some subject of general interest. Competitors will be permitted to select one of two subjects given). 20
 - Penmanship (writing of the subject of copying from plain copy will be considered with special reference to the elements of legibility, rapidity, neatness, general appearance, etc.). 20
 - Copying from plain copy (a simple test in copying accurately a few printed lines in the competitor's handwriting). 10
 - United States Geography (relative to the boundaries of States, and to capitals, largest cities, rivers and other bodies of water, and the location by States of prominent cities, etc.). 10
 - Reading addresses (test in reading the names and addresses on 25 cards in different handwritings). 10

Total. 100
Age limit, all positions, 18 to 45 years.

All applicants, male and female, must have the medical certificate in the application blank executed. Male applicants must be at least 5 feet 4 inches in height in bare feet, and weight not less than 125 pounds.

The Postoffice Department has stated that no person is to be appointed in any of the following named particulars will be appointed in the postal service: Deaf-mutes; lunatics; persons having defective hearing, sight, or speech; persons totally blind or blind in one eye; one-handed, one-handed, or one-legged persons, or those having crippled arms or legs; and those suffering from asthma, consumption, hernia, or any other physical defect or disease which would prevent a proper discharge of the duties of the position.

All persons who have been examined for the position of clerk or carrier within the past year and failed to pass may be re-examined upon filing new applications in due time.

This examination is open to all citizens of the United States who comply with the requirements. From the eligible candidates for this examination it is expected that certification will be made to existing and future vacancies. For application blank, full instructions, specimen examination questions, and information relative to the duties of clerk or carrier in different positions and the location of the examination room, application should be made to the secretary of the board of examiners at the postoffice.

Applications will be accepted for this examination by the secretary of the local board up to the hour of examination.

Secretary Postal Board.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, HISTORY, LITERATURE.

A Sketch—Eugene Field.

Eugene Field, Journalist.
Born Sept. 2d, 1850, St. Louis, Mo.

Died Nov. 4th, 1895, in Chicago, Ill.

Such is the brief epitome of a life so full of sunshine, childishness and religion.

Several years of his early manhood were passed in Virginia and Massachusetts, and he studied at the University of Missouri. He was from 1873 to 1883 connected with various newspapers in Missouri and Colorado, joining the staff of the Chicago Daily News in 1888.

Author of Denver Tribune Primer (1882), Culture Garland (1887), A Little Book of Western Verse (1889), and A Little Book of Profitable Tales (1889).

In this short sketch of happy-hearted Eugene Field there sweeps across my heart a sigh of tender regret that the call to "come up higher" came when the humor and the pathos of his pen were so much needed by the adrifted earth. Thoughtful writers of verse and stories and newspapers are with us none has yet filled the vacant place in the daily lives of his countrymen!

It is pleasant to read from the trenchant pen of Slason Thompson showing so clearly his erratic and puzzling personality. Two peculiar traits of his nature—fun and conviviality. Free from acrimonious controversy, abominating speech-makers and lampooning political oracles. Everything he wrote in prose or verse reflecting his contempt for earth's mighty and his sweet sympathy for earth's million mites. Nothing gloomy, narrow, or pharisaical entering into his composition.

He needed comradeship, and Mr. Thompson recognizes this characteristic in the picture he has drawn for us, never leaving Mr. Field without that surrounding of friends which marked every era of his life. Practically, Eugene Field was never alone for the "wee while" he had found in old St. Joseph, Mo., was the one comrade, whose sympathy and deprecating gentleness never ceased to support and delight him.

He took this pretty bride into Belmont on their wedding tour and solemnly ordered boiled pig feet—ala St. Joe—bringing out the gentle protest: "O, Eugene!"

In their early domestic years this funny man delighted to give parties, and coming down into a room full of their friends, he would genially exclaim: "Well, boys, its too hot for coats!" and removing his own, he would reveal a red flannel undershirt with linen collar and cuffs carefully pinned on and the joke never failed to bring out the words he was expecting—the little surprised cry of: "O, Eugene!"

In the matter of dress he was somewhat of a terror, and Mr. Thompson describes him in working order. Field almost invariably wrote in his shirt sleeves, generally with his collar off, and always with his feet crossed across the corner of the desk or table. One of the first things he did on coming to the office was to take off his shoes and put on a pair of slippers with no counters around the heels, so that they slapped the floor as he walked and hung from his toes as he wrote.

Why Field always rolled up the bottom of his trousers on coming into the office and turned them down when he went out, is a mystery. Probably it was partly on account of his contradictory nature and partly to save the trousers from being dragged for the unloading of his "vest" was always attended by the unbuttoning of his suspenders to permit of his sitting with greater ease upon the curve of his spine. This is by no means the pen picture one's fancy would draw of the fastidious lover of old books, of an artist who penned those beautiful manuscripts, the translator of Horace, and the friend of Modjeska.

He was a lover of music; musicians and the drama, player-folk being among his intimates. The Polish actress never played in Chicago without her good, but embarrassing friend, Field, being present. Her "Camille" inspired one of his most familiar poems and her playing in that part always touched him with its sweetness and womanliness. None the less would he laugh at the sadness and cry when every one else was laughing until the poor actress was driven to despondency.

Modjeska would reproach him the next day with: "Ah, Meester Field, why will you seat in de box and talk wid your overcoat on the chair to make Camille laugh who is dying on the stage?"

"Ah, Meester Field, you are one very bad man, but I lof you, don't me, Charlie?"

And the count (her husband) always stopped rolling his cigarette long enough to acknowledge that Field was their dearest friend, and that they loved him. Field was an unexpressible mimic all his life.

Away back in the early days, when as a reporter for a St. Louis paper, he was sent to mis-report the tour of Missouri, which Carl Schurz was making, he played serious havoc with the voters by impersonating the distinguished statesman with such audacity on more than one occasion. It appears that: "This is my busy day," was invented by Eugene Field in his mad, wild days in Denver when that "bottomless walnut chair" was one of the favorite furnishings of his austere office. He cared nothing for politics; though his father, when in St. Louis, launched into that epoch-making law suit, the "Dred Scott Case." He was never an active man! There is a story that he ran away from school, once, walking all the way home—twenty-five miles on the railroad track.

This his biographers hold was the severest and the sole physical feat of Mr. Field's life. He was devoted to the great national game and his "Sharps and Flats" column was ever concerned with the base ball news.

Bowling was perhaps the only active diversion he ever engaged in, his terror of walking is apparent in the jolly letters written to Mr. Thompson's sister. One of these postal cards read: "Come on, we are starving," and Miss T. sent a large raised biscuit by next mail to relieve their sufferings. In this simple biography of Eugene Field Mr. Thompson has given us a delightful portrait of his friend and comrade which leaves nothing wanting and no side of that varied character untouched.

It impresses the disinterested reader as an honest and beautiful tribute to the memory of his friend, and to one who knew and loved "Gene" Field's living chaplet of heart blossoms laid upon his grave.

His love for children and the divine patience with them speaks of a gentle and refined temperament. How joyfully does his rhythmic melody ring in the "Toy Soldier" and "Booh!" What mystic silence in the "Peace of Christmas Time." What sorrow known in "Telka," what happiness in the song of "Wynken, Blynken and Nod."

We can not regard too highly the accomplished and exquisite personality of this peculiar psychic, whose familiarity with nature and nature's phases made him a part of all the world. Let us teach his poems at the fireside, when the winds cry "you-ooo." Let us make the children remember "the friends who loved them," and when the angel of forgetfulness wipes out his faults with tears we, too, shall see Eugene Field and know him as he is.
